DAKIN'S PURE VOLATILE EUCALYPTUS OIL.

DISTILLED FROM THE LEAVES OF SELECTED SPECIES OF EUCALYPTUS.

EUCALYPTUS OIL has long been a favorite place as a "household remedy" in Australia. When applied externally it has a powerful stimulant and soothing action but does not blister the most sensitive skin, and an application can will quickly subdue the pain of muscular rheumatism.

Taken internally in small doses, it acts as a powerful stimulant and antispasmodic whilst its secondary action induces sleep.

The penetrating agreeable vapor of the Oil is sedative, and when inhaled relieves Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarra, &c.

Sp

THE CHINA MAIL.

THE N.C. Daily News of 9th inst. says—
The French corvette Villiers from Nagasaki arrived at Woosung yesterday and was to come up to Shanghai at high water. The French flagship Triomphant is expected at Woosung in a few days. The Wu-fu is on her way up to Shanghai, and will probably relieve the Li-ku at Hankow, while that vessel undergoes extensive repairs.

Huiz is a good instance of Chinese official avarice. Just after the riot at Ichang the magistrate went alongside the Peashoo—he was not allowed on board—and begged to settle all claims on the spot. He then went back and telegraphed to the Viceroy which the foreigners had set fire to their houses themselves!—N.C. News.

GREAT PRECAUTIONS, says the Shen-pao, are being taken in Yangtze by the civil and military authorities. Patrols are out night and day. The air is full of agitating rumours. Lately the news of the capture of areas in Shanghai has caused much anxiety to the officials, who are now making search for implements of war and suspicious characters. Detachments of soldiers are called out to render assistance to the civil authorities. It is also reported that the Nanking Viceroy has sent a high official with a military and naval force to guard all the approaches to Yangtze. As far as I can learn, from a military point of view, to Chinkiang, Hsueh-fu on the Grand Canal, and Chinkiang. The prisoners were forwarded to Nanking for trial from the Kuyang district. These men were neither military nor priests, but a kind of cross between the two as far as their dress was concerned. It is said that the prisoners in company with twenty others were staying in a dilapidated old temple in Kuyang. As they appeared to be simply harmless mendicants, the authorities did not deem it necessary to order them away. One day one of their number died and there was great lamentation on the part of the others. A potty military official commanding a patrol passed by, took pity on them and promised to give them a dollar towards the funeral expenses of the deceased. When he started on his return, he forgot all about the promise he had made and did not bring the dollar. On finding this out the crowd of mendicants set upon him. Feeling sure that no more beggars would dare to set as they were doing, he called his guards and ordered them to arrest the supposed mendicants. Three were captured, the rest taking to flight. On searching the place, yellow flags with seals stamped on them were found under the straw-beds. These apparently wretched people were members of the Kolo Hui. The prisoners are awaiting their trial.

SUPREME COURT.
IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.
(Before Mr. E. J. Ackroyd, Acting Justice of the Peace.)

Tuesday, October 13.

RON Y. CHEUNG ROI.
This was a claim for $1,000 for assault. Mr. Robinson, instructed by Mr. Wilkinson, was for the plaintiff, and Mr. Francis, Q.C., instructed by Messrs. Wotton and Deacon, for the defense.

Mr. Robinson said the plaintiff was the wife of a clerk in the employ of Messrs. Blackhead & Co., who till quite recently had been a tenant of the defendant. When they left defendant's house, there was a small sum owing for rent, and on the 5th September the wife went to pay this money or a part of it. Some dispute arose when she tendered payment and the defendant abused the plaintiff. She went to her husband's office and told him of what had occurred, and after business hours the husband returned with plaintiff to make enquiries about what had taken place. Further words ensued between the parties and defendant ordered them to leave the house. As they were leaving, the husband being in front and the wife behind, the defendant pushed the wife, causing her to fall forward into the street. Defendant deliberately pushed her into the street. She never struck the defendant, who had been married about 4 years. The result of the blow she received from the defendant was that she had a miscarriage.

Michael Francis, son, husband of the plaintiff, gave evidence as to the assault. She admitted that after having some words with the defendant she had shaken her fist at him, and that her husband had separated them. Defendant took her umbrella from her and struck her with it. It was not correct that in leaving the house she tripped over the steps and fell into the street. Defendant deliberately pushed her into the street. She never struck the defendant, who had been married about 4 years. The result of the blow she received from the defendant was that she had a miscarriage.

Mr. Robinson said the plaintiff had been remanded on both sides that the case was one in which there was a great conflict of evidence on nearly every point. There was no doubt in his mind that the parties were on bad terms before Mrs. Leon went to the defendant's house at three o'clock in the afternoon in question. What took place was that the plaintiff, and the defendant, with his right hand and with his left he got hold of her umbrella and hit her twice on the body. During the struggle which took place I received several blows with a bamboo. My wife went out into the passage and then four Chinese came running in with bamboo and sticks. She took up a stool and told them that had been what they did. Then she turned down the stool again and as she turned to go she was pushed out over the steps and fell heavily into the gutter. He did not see the defendant strike her, but it must have been him because he was within two feet of her, and the other man were about six feet behind. I put my wife in a chair and took her home. The next day we saw for Dr. Jordan and my wife had a miscarriage.

Mr. Louis Roza said that he was in Wellington Street on the evening of Sept. 5th, and when passing the defendant's house he heard a cry and immediately Mr. Leon and his wife rushed out of the house. The woman was pushed out by three or four Chinese and she had a nasty fall in the gutter.

Dr. Jordan said—When he went to see Mrs. Leon she had a cut over her right eye. She complained of abdominal pains. I ascertained that she was in labour and administered a sedative to prevent it. I asked if she had been an accident and her husband said something about an accident, or about her having been pushed downstairs. The mark on the eye might have been the result of a blow or a fall. I have personal knowledge that a miscarriage occurred.

His Lordship—Do you think two pokes with an umbrella would cause abortion?

Witness—Quite likely.

His Lordship—They might do that without leaving any marks on the abdomen.

Witness—Yes. Abortion might take place at any time after 24 hours from the time of the blow.

A. Dawson, architect, produced a sketch of the steps going out from the hall at Messrs. Brandao's place in the street.

Choi Tung, the defendant, comrade of Mr. Brandao, said—Mr. and Mrs. Leon, who are tenants of ours, came to see me on 25th September at No. 61 Wellington Street. Mr. Leon had a stick which he shook and asked 'Who is Old Wang?' I said I was. He then said 'How is it that when my wife brought the rent you did not wait it and used but language to her?' I said she did not hand over to me but threw it down at the street door and so I could not take it. Mrs. Leon then came in and said 'You spoke bad language and you won't acknowledge it.' She then struck me on the face with her open hand. I asked her why she struck me. I put my hands out at the same time and said 'Bu off, be off.' I did not push her; she had an umbrella in her hand which she hit me on the shoulder. I snatched the umbrella from her and threw it into the passage. They went out then. At the side of the main entrance there was a long step which the woman took up and tried to trip me over my head but I caught hold of it. We both held the hand and struggled for it a little. When I let go she turned to go out, and whether she slipped on the threshold or not I don't know, but she fell out at the door. It is not true that I struck her. She certainly struck me with the umbrella. Her husband never moved his hand. There were two other Chinese in the room who saw all that took place. It is not true that I cried 'Ta,' nor that several coolies came into the room with bamboo and threatened to strike her. It is not true that I pushed her out into the street. Nobody did so. It is not true that I struck her in the stomach with the umbrella. When she fell down the step she got up quickly and used two Chinese phrases. There was not a little girl with her.

Ko Sing Hsing, broker, said he was with the defendant when Mr. and Mrs. Leon called on him on the evening of the 25th September. He gave an account of the same account of what took place as the last witness. Witness did not say what happened to the woman. Both the man and the woman left so forceful that he was afraid to follow them into the passage. He did not see the woman fall.

After further evidence.

Mr. Francis, addressing his Lordship for the defense, said it seemed that whatever the defendant did, she turned to go out, and whether she slipped on the threshold or not I don't know, but she fell out at the door.

The Overland China Mail,
A WEEKLY JOURNAL FOR THE HOME MAIL,

IS PUBLISHED to suit the Departure of each European and French Mail Steamer for Europe. It contains special Commercial intelligence, special tables of Shipping and other information. The various Reports of Courts and Meetings, and all other news, are given in full as they appear in the Daily issue.

The Overland China Mail, by the convenience of its form and the accuracy and fulness of its reports, has long been popular with residents who wish to send home a weekly budget of the news of Hongkong and the Far East. Circulating as it does, among nearly all the old China "hands" at Home and also among residents at the Treaty Ports and in the interior, it offers special advantages to its readers.

The Overland China Mail will be regularly posted from the China Mail Office to subscribers, on their addresses being forwarded to the Office.
